Credit criteria are subject to change so please check first with LiveTALK or your BDM if you are unsure.

Affordability and gifts

Affordability

- Our affordability calculator mirrors the one used by our underwriters to ensure consistency
- Debts being repaid are not included in the calculation
- Maximum age for lending is 70, subject to affordability
- Loans with less than 6 months to run not included
- Where the loan amount is more than £500,00, the maximum term is 35 years (30 years for Interest Only loans)
- Lifestyle expenses – we use data supplied by the Office of National Statistics (ONS) to assess an applicant's lifestyle expenses which are automatically built into the affordability calculator
- Childcare costs - customers need to include their specific childcare costs as a financial commitment in the calculator. If childcare costs are unknown, customers should suggest likely future costs or you can refer to the national average figures, which you can find on the 'A-Z of lending criteria' page of our website under 'Childcare costs'

If your customers are receiving a gifted cash deposit

- We accept deposits from parents and/or guardians. We treat them as if they are the applicant's own deposit, even where the money is advanced against a formal loan agreement or a second charge is put in place to secure the family member's rights. Any monthly cost relating to a formal loan agreement must be included in the affordability calculation
- Gifts from third parties (not sellers/vendors) are an acceptable source of customer deposit, provided no repayment required

If your customers are receiving gifted equity when buying from a family member

- We accept transactions under value where the applicant is receiving a gift of equity from a family member/business with a deed of gift to represent the amounts
- The maximum loan amount can be based on the valuation not the purchase price
- The applicant may need to have an indemnity set up via their own solicitor, even when the money is advanced against a formal loan agreement or a second charge is put in place to secure the family member's and/or family business's rights
- The family member gifting the equity is allowed to remain a resident at the property after the sale completes (residential only NOT buy-to-let)

New Build

A New Build property is defined as:

Any property built, first occupied in its current state or significantly modernised, refurbished or altered within the last two years.

The decision as to whether a property meets this definition will be made by the valuer at the point of valuation.

Lending limits

- A limit will be set for each New Build development. Limits will vary according to each development and must not exceed 25%
- The limit will be set and monitored by our Valuation Panel Manager

Maximum LTVs

- Flats 75%, houses 85%*
- These are based on net purchase price or valuation whichever is lower
- These maximums also apply to further advance requests if the property meets the New Build definition above

*75% for mortgages over £1m

Structural warranties

- We will only lend on New Builds/ renovations where there is a 10 year or longer Structural Warranty in place from our list of approved suppliers (see your BDM for details)
- Professional Consultant Certificate – in the absence of a valid warranty, we will accept a Professional Consultant Certificate from a suitably qualified professional, if provided in the format detailed in the CML Lenders' Handbook.

The solicitor acting for NatWest should confirm the requirements are met and that the Certificate was issued prior to exchange of contracts. Architects' Certificates without the benefit of the Professional Consultant Certificate are not acceptable

- Structural warranties issued retrospectively cannot be accepted

Builder's incentives

- We accept builder's financial incentives on New Build properties up to 15% of a property's purchase price and up to 5% on a property bought using the Help to Buy shared equity schemes
- The purchase price will not be adjusted for incentives, unless the total amount of incentives exceeds 5% of the purchase price. Incentives greater than 5% will be deducted and lending based on the reduced purchase price (unless the property valuation is lower)
- The example below explains this for a New Build residential house:
 - Purchase price of the property: £120,000
 - Incentives total: £8,000
 - Incentives to be deducted from purchase price: £8,000 - £6,000 (5% of purchase price) = £2,000
 - Reduced purchase price: £120,000 - £2,000 = £118,000

- Portable and proportionate incentives, such as carpets and curtains, along with other financial incentives such as support with up-front costs such as Stamp Duty, legal fees or cashback or enhanced part exchange terms can be accepted in the 5% allowance
- Non-standard items such as an upgraded kitchen or integrated appliances can be accepted as an incentive but do not need to be included in the 5% allowance. It will be the responsibility of the valuer to decide which incentives are included in the calculation
- To comply with the requirements of the Help to Buy schemes, customers must still fund a 5% deposit themselves
- Lending is based on the lower of the purchase price of the property or the property valuation

Part exchange

- Where a housebuilder buys the property off the applicant and then re-sells it on the open market. It enables the applicant to sell their existing property quickly so that they can proceed with the purchase of their New Build property. This IS classed as a scheme, so cannot be used in conjunction with any other scheme such as Help to Buy

Assisted move

- Where a housebuilder will typically pay the fees for two local estate agents to market the applicant's existing property for a quick sale enabling them to proceed with the purchase of their New Build property. This is NOT classed as a scheme but as an incentive, so the applicant can use a scheme such as Help to Buy to purchase their New Build property

Minimum loan amount

- £10,000 (or that set by the individual product, whichever is greater)

Offer validity

- Mortgage offers are valid for 6 months, but an extension can be requested at any point within the initial 6 month offer period. If granted, customers could have a total offer period of up to 12 months. This will be subject to the confirmation of a successful credit search and property valuation.
